Info Pack 1 - "Join us!"

Dear Clowns!

Welcome to Clowning & Caring in Mexico 2025

Here are some thoughts about how Gesundheit! Institute intends the art of clowning and some suggestions and invitations for all of us in order to be ready to go to Mexico City!

Clowning

If you come to this tour with a sense of joy and generosity, there is no “right” or “wrong” way to be a clown, below, however, are some tips to prepare for success.

When you embark onto a clown tour with Gesundheit! Institute the experience begins from the very moment you register!

➡ Take some time before thinking about your clown character(s) and methods

How can your particular personal traits be best used in play? Experiment with being publicly happy, to be cheerful and engaging in public spaces. Practice making eye contact with strangers, smiling, singing, making goofy faces, wearing the clown nose. Practice joyful vulnerability. Practice playing with the flow of events in life not as problems, but as opportunities.

REMEMBER: You don't have to be funny (seriously)

Clowning is a way to connect to people and share love, don't worry about getting laughs, they will come naturally!

➡ Take some time putting together your costume.

Make sure your clown costumes and shoes are comfortable, even if you feel silly. Thrift stores and yard sales abound with inexpensive clown wear. Don't over-pack, but bring enough costumes and clothes for the trip. Keep in mind temperatures in Mexico City in March may vary from a minimum of 8/11 °C (47/51 °F) to a maximum of 24/26 °C (76/79 °F), expect sunny as cloudy days, while rain is usually not a concern during this time of the year.

You will also find endless use for many pockets. Remember, a clown can be anything you imagine it to be!!!

➡ Take some time getting toys together.

Lots of experienced clowns like to carry a bag full of props and goodies. There are certain clown tools that never run out of uses, here is a quick list of props or toys you might want to stock up on (remember: these are just suggestions). Bring enough to share and give away!

BALLOONS BALLOONS!, (an amazing joyful tool especially if it's your 1st time clowning!),

Puppets

Stickers

Bubbles

Face paints

Musical instruments

Sound makers

Woopie cushion

Magic tricks

A personal photo album about your life at home, and where you are from

Don't stop there, find anything that is funny or interesting to you, lots of folks like abstract props like big pieces of fabric, funnels, or string. Get creative!!!!*

YOU WILL BE HAPPY YOU HAVE A FEW PROPS!

NB: The list above is just a suggestion, bring anything that you wish to experiment, even if it's just one thing.

➡ Gifts when Clowning

Gift giving is a wonderful and beautiful thing, but can also be challenging as a clown. Often, if you begin giving out gifts in a group of kids you will be transformed in their eyes from a "funny loving clown" to "vending machine." If you want to give presents away it is a good idea to do it with individual kids with whom you are having a personal and intimate clowning connection!

A serious note about clowning

While clowning can be wild and full of energy, it is very important to remember that we are guests, both in the country and the institution where we are clowning, DON'T BE TOO NAUGHTY. IT CAN JEPORDIZE CHANCES TO RETURN IN FUTURE YEARS.

This means while we encourage you to be wildly experimental, that we need to be respectful of any rules or requests about behavior. Generally, "potty" humor is unwelcome by institutions directors including, fake poop, pants dropping, and over the top farting. Please come with an open mind, and if someone from the team makes a request about your clowning, be open to the suggestions.

When we enter a room, until we know it is safe to go crazy, we enter with awe and wonder, and MAKE NO ASSUMPTIONS about the space we are entering.

We have found that the more we establish a relationship with people when clowning the more we can get away with. Being a clown is about connecting with people, alleviating pain and suffering, and creating loving relationships with strangers.

Advisory

This is a drug-free trip. If you are under 18 years of age, there is no alcohol and no exceptions. Violators will be sent home. We are here to serve and befriend the local communities. All our activities will be consistent with this policy.

This is a violence-free trip. Anyone who commits any act of violence will be immediately sent home.

Change money ONLY in designated facilities: the airport at arrival is good, otherwise there are safe exchange facilities in the neighbourhood where we'll be lodging.

The area of Mexico City where we'll be lodging is relatively safe, but we advise that after dark, be in groups.

Do not bring anything to Mexico that you cannot afford to live without (i.e. jewellery, a family heirloom, etc.)

The extra copy of your passport is a MUST!!!! You can leave your passport in the hotel safe.

Gesundheit! has a NO-WHINING policy.

About Covid-19

1. Vaccination is recommended and not required for this program.
2. Health and safety are our priority, so we might be forced to reject applications from people who have health concerns which might be undesirably compatible with Covid-related health issues.
3. We expect flexibility and understanding from participants. Just one example: some institutions we are going to visit might require us to wear masks.
4. We expect maximum consideration about hygiene from each participant, since we are going to share spaces and have wonderful meals and activities together.
